

A lifelong conservationist, Charley Harper ultimately found his passion in creating paintings of wildlife in his own minimal realist style. He went on to delight legions of art and animal lovers with his posters for the National Park Service, the National Audubon Society, the Cornell Lab of Ornithology, Costa Ricas Monteverde Cloud Forest Reserve, and other conservation organizations. In simple shapes and patterns, and vivid colors, Harper captured the essence of each animal he depicted. Here are twelve seminal Harpers, including Cardinal Cuisine, Dolfun, Feeding Station, and Lovey Dovey.
