

It can be really depressing when you look at your income on payday and realize that there is just not enough money in the kitty to pay all of the outgoings you are responsible for. This has happened to me this week when I realized that if I paid all of my accounts owing (which I had to do) then I would not have enough money to make the rent payment due in just five days. This book is a five day diary on how I will make the money I need to pay the rent due no later than a Friday evening. Each day I will outline what I have done, where I have done it and how much I can hope to get from my efforts. Results are posted from Day 2 onwards. This is not a huge textbook on how you can make your rent money in five days - it is a case study where I show you exactly what I did to bring in almost $800 in just five days. I hope you enjoy it.
