

“Oh! Yes, Jesus! If You love me so much, I will strive to be good, as You want and my father wanted me to be. And my mother will no longer have an aching pain in her heart. I will love you as no other man could possibly love you, I will love you so much, I do love you. Do not disappoint Me. No, Master, I will not. I was full of conflicts. Envy, jealousy, eagerness to excel, sensuality, everything clashed in me against the voice of my conscience... It was my wicked nature. I thought I was Your first disciple and, now You have just told me that You already have one. You saw him yourself. Do you not remember that at Passover I was in the Temple with many Galileans? I thought they were friends. I thought I was the first one to be chosen for such destiny, and that I was therefore the dearest. There are no distinctions in My heart between the first and the last. John, My first disciple, Simon, the one of whom I spoke to you two days ago. You have already seen Simon and John. One was ill. Ah! The leper! I remember. Is he already Your disciple? Since the following day. And why did I have to wait so long? Judas?! You are right. Forgive me.”
