30 Nov - 4 min - Uploaded by Living Zoology Natural horror filmed by Matej and Zuzana Dolinay. Full scene from Komodo island with two. The largest of all lizards, the Komodo dragon is a mighty reptile that weighs up to speed, strength and the tenacity to bring down prey species twice its size. Komodos mainly hunt by ambushing their prey, but they are also fast runners. As the dominant predators on the handful of islands they inhabit, they will eat almost anything, including carrion, deer, pigs, smaller dragons, and even large water buffalo and humans. When hunting, Komodo dragons rely on camouflage and patience, lying in wait for passing prey. The dominant predators on the islands where they live, Komodo dragons will eat almost anything. When hunting, Komodo dragons rely on camouflage and patience, lying in wait for passing prey. An animal that escapes the jaws of a Komodo won't feel lucky for long. Komodo dragons have a mean bite and saliva that can kill any prey. They can run briefly up to 13 mph (20 kph) but prefer to hunt by ambushing their prey. With its fantastic sense of smell, the Komodo will find the dead animal and finish its meal.
