

What if you could be fully awake and present without struggling with your mind or your ego? Are you finished harshly judging yourself for having an ego? Are you ready to accept that you are here now? If so, you are ready to explore joyful and peaceful Oneness. You are prepared to consider concepts within The Seventh Major Understanding. The heart of the Seventh Major Understanding is awakening to Oneness. Joshua, the source of this message, urges us to be aware of our personal influence on local and global events. He reminds us of our power to transform our lives as we bring peace, love, and abundance to people everywhere. Joshua says he is a teacher of teachers. He speaks to the leaders of the global transition. Joshua's ideas inspire the many teachers present who are showing others the way out of a fear-based world into a new reality of love and trust. If you inspire people to release habits of separation as you show them unconditional love, you are among the teachers, healers, and leaders of change. Your message is essential, and your light is cherished. Finding fault with human nature is a practice of separation that Joshua encourages us to go beyond. If you are weary of being told that our mind-based ego consciousness robs us of life, you are one of the leaders Joshua attracts. Within all the religions of the world, there are treasures. It is these gems of spiritual wisdom we embrace as we release the limiting ideas that are taught in tandem. The message of The Seventh Major Understanding transcends beliefs of Eastern religion that are deeply woven into Western spirituality. If these are the concepts you're ready to explore, The Seventh Major Understanding is your book.
