

African Insanity. International Men of Di$honour. Raiders of the Last Farms. and the Bones of Independence. Why are Africa and Africans a problem to themselves? The standard explanations blame anyone but the Africans and makes crooks and murderers like Mugabe, Idi Amin, Museveni and Kaunda heroes. It was only a senile mind and one of shallow depth that would believe that because Africans wanted a fair and just continent in which public officials and politicians are answerable for the way they handle public business, they are agents of another government and not their conscience; that they are un-African, pro-Western, agents of imperialism. How can one continent be so out of step with mankind's march of progress? Everyone agrees that Africans are desperately poor. But this is because African governments are so lousy because their rulers keep them that way. Just as African-Americans have made wastelands of those parts of the United States in which they are a majority and over which they exercise authority, so have Africans desolated a continent bursting with riches. There are billions of dollars at stake and millions of lives. The fundamental question is whether those so-called developed world can salve a continent suffering or are Africans really on their own?
